Section 5 Second Mortgages

Let to Buy

New residential mortgages can be considered up to 80% max LTV where the customer is, for example, upsizing or relocating with their job. We need to be satisfied that the existing mortgages will be converted to a permanent letting agreement and we require:

- Consent to let confirmation, in writing, from the existing lender or a copy of the LTB re-mortgage offer from the new lender.
- Rental coverage of 130% of the mortgage commitment (based on a notional 5.5% interest rate). This calculation must include any additional capital raising for deposit funds. If the rental coverage is less than 130%, any shortfall will be annualised and deducted from income before applying our income multiples to new residential mortgages. No surplus rental income will be assessed.

 - Consent to let will be required or proof the mortgage is on a BTL basis (BTL mortgage statement).

Section 6 Solutions

Borrowing in and into Retirement

The applicant

Applications for Borrowing into/in Retirement products will only be accepted from applicants who are already over the age of 80, or whose required mortgage term will take them beyond age 80.

For joint applications if the definition applies to only one of the applicants, then eligibility for a mainstream product will need to be considered taking into account whether affordability relies on the income of the older applicant.

Joint applicants are eligible for the entire product range (subject to criteria) in cases where:

- There is no reliance on the income of the older borrower and the term does not take the younger borrower beyond age 80.
- Reduced maximum LTV limits apply to older borrowers:

Up to age 70	Max 95% LTV
70 – 79 years	Max 70% LTV
80 years and over	Max 60% LTV
